Project Description (Project Manager, KeNHA)

- Eng. Stanley provided an overview of the proposed Nairobi Expressway project whose characteristics include:
- A 26.7 km long expressway largely on the median of the existing A8
- The expressway starts from Mlolongo, proceeds to JKIA, Nairobi CBD, Westlands and terminating at ABC place. 26.764km long expressway which includes 15.739km at grade section (Mlolongo to Southern Bypass interchange) and 11.025km elevated section (Southern Bypass interchange to ABC Place)
- The road will comprise four lanes with two emergency lanes to be used by ambulances, fire brigades, police and to cater for other emergency. Some sections will however have six lanes
- There will be service roads, ramps and interchanges
- The road will have a design speed of 80km/hr.
- The road will be fully fenced with controlled access
- The project is a Public Private Partnership under the B.O.T model (Build-Operate-Transfer) between a private investor (CRBC) and Government of Kenya, and will be constructed over a period of 3 years commencing in 2020
- This is the first BOT (Build-Operate-Transfer) road project whereby the (Investor takes revenue risk)
- All facilities will be handed back to the Government of Kenya after a concession period of 30 years, together with its advanced technology and management.
- The cost of construction of the expressway is approximately Kenya Shillings Sixty Billion.
- The road will be tolled for purpose of CRBC recouping their investment. There will be ten toll stations which will also have security cameras.
- There will be no demolition of buildings along the project route. A few perimeter walls may however be affected by land acquisition

- The anticipated benefits of the construction of the expressway include a) Reduced traffic congestion b) Reduced time spent in traffic c) Easier transportation of goods and services hence promoting local economy
- The one-way toll charge for salon cars will be 300 shillings and 1800 shillings for trucks.
- The Contractor will have a comprehensive traffic management plan to avoid or minimize interference with existing A8 road. The plan will entail dumping of construction materials at night.

ESIA Process and ESMP Development (Centric Representative)

- The Centric representative explained that the requirement for an ESIA is enshrined in the Environmental Management and Coordination Act (EMCA), 1999, (amended in 2015) which is the framework law on environmental management in Kenya. The Act provides for environmental protection through processes such as Environmental Impact Assessment, Environmental Audit and Monitoring.
- The Second Schedule of the Act identifies development of road projects as requiring EIA studies
- By way of consideration of the nature of anticipated environmental and social impacts in terms of severity, ease of reversibility, longevity and the geographical scope which may be impacted by the project, it has been determined the Expressway project will be subjected to a Full ESIA Study to enable an in-depth identification and analysis of potential impacts, and subsequent devising of appropriate mitigation and enhancement measures
- The ESIA process entails screening a project to determine whether an EIA is required or not, and if needed, the level of scrutiny (environmental assessment) that the project should be subjected to. Screening is following by a baseline and scoping study to determine the nature and magnitude of anticipated environmental and social impacts
- Stakeholder consultation is a key aspect of the EIA Study and, is anchored in the Constitution of Kenya 2010 and is also supported by the Public Participation Bill of 2018. It is therefore crucial that stakeholders in any given development are identified and engaged at various levels with an aim of obtaining their views, concerns, suggestions and recommendations, to be incorporated in the project. Centric explained that it is for this reason that stakeholder engagement is being carried out with various parties including line national government institutions, county government, civil society organizations, professional bodies, roadside traders and large establishments fronting the proposed alignment, residents along the corridor and various road users including long distance truck drivers, PSVs, cyclists, pedestrians etc.
- Impact prediction and analysis paves way for the development of the ESMP whereby appropriate mitigation measures are devised for anticipated adverse impacts and enhancement measures are suggested for positive impacts
- The ESIA Consultant will prepare an elaborate ESMP to cater for all anticipated project impacts. Some of the mitigations measures to be proposed will largely be informed by best industry practice, for instance, it may be recommended that the Contractor institutes a grievance redress mechanism during construction and operation of the road, the Contractor rolls out a road safety awareness campaign to mitigate traffic incidents and an HIV/AIDS campaign to mitigate spread of STDs. Further the Consultant may recommend that project workers abide by a stringent code of conduct to curtail adverse impacts to the neighboring communities.

- Several sub-studies will be carried out as part of the ESIA Study with a view of establishing the baseline. These including air sampling, noise survey, soil sampling, water sampling and biodiversity assessment.
- Statistics such as pertaining to traffic incidents will be collected from relevant institutions to inform the baseline and decision making pertaining to project design
- Centric explained that the Terms of Reference for the ESIA Study had been submitted to NEMA for review and the approval to proceed with the study had been granted
- Once the ESIA Report is submitted to NEMA, the Authority will generate the summary of potential impacts and mitigation measures for publication in two local dailies and in the Kenya gazette. The public will be invited through the advert to peruse the report and give comments over a period of thirty days.
- NEMA will then review the report and make a decision as to whether to issue an EIA license with conditions or not issue the EIA license

Interactive Session with Participants

The meeting then progressed to an interactive session whereby the participants were given the opportunity to ask questions, make comments, seek clarification, air their views, concerns and recommendations for incorporation into the project development.
